LIFE INSURANCE. No. 14, Exchange Street, PORTLAND. LITTLE & BROTHER are Agents for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York.

In this Company the whole of the net profits are divided personally among the insured, and the amount is endorsed on the Policy, and the whole amount is payable on the death of the party to his or her representatives, thus combining the advantages of a Saving Institution of the best kind with Life Insurance, by which those who are not wealthy may provide for their families, and capitalists find a safe and profitable investment.

The advantages of such insurance to the individual, to his family and to the community, are obvious. A person 30 years of age, by paying $131 annually, may secure $1000 to his family should he die within the year, and one in his 40th year may do the same by paying $169.

A young man 21 years of age, without capital, by paying $9.00 may obtain a Policy for $1000 for 1 year, and thereby procure means to begin business, purchase tools or a library, or complete an education. We have already made Policies for such purposes.

A creditor may give himself additional security for a debt due him by insuring on a debtor's life.

In England where investments pay not over 3 1/2 per cent. per annum, the profits to assured have been very great, as the following will show, viz. a person at the age of 30 effected insurance on his life for $1000, at the expiration of 30 years by the death of the insured, the accumulated profits together with the sum insured, gave his heirs about $3000. In this Company the investments (already large) are now paying 5 per cent., and the probabilities that the results with this office will be equally favorable, if not more so.

No person having a family who is able to save $1.00 per month, should delay a moment, to obtain a Policy at this office.

Any information that may be desired, can be obtained by calling on the subscribers. June 25, 1844. 6w

BANGOR. Progress of Whig Principles—The Cause is Flourishing—Changes of Wise and Good Men in Favor of the True American Party.

The progress of the Whig cause among all classes of persons is not only a cheering indication to those patriotic men who have labored to have the principles and measures of the Whig party carried into practice, but is a glad note of hopeful promise to the whole people who are interested mainly in having a good government well-administered, especially that numerous body of men engaged in the industrial pursuits of life whose success depends so greatly upon having their industry protected against foreign capitalists who employ poorly fed and poorer clothed and uncared for and neglected laborers.

A Brilliant Change—Senator Wilson R. Shinn of Virginia.

Wilson R. Shinn a Senator in the Virginia Legislature on the fourteenth of June last addressed an eloquent letter to one of his political friends expressing his dislike of the political juggling of the Baltimore Democratic Convention in throwing over Mr Van Buren when instructed to vote for him and nominating Mr Polk "an entire stranger not only personally but politically, to the whole Democracy." He says that "so far as the next Presidential election is concerned, the Convention might as well have recommended no person, as the "Forlorn Hope."

"Had Mr Van Buren received the nomination we would then have had an open field and fair fight; but as the contest now stands, it is as unequal as it would be, were a regiment of men each armed with a Stockton gun, to come in contact with a divided band of Lilliputians armed with polk stalks for their artillery."

Not being able to get his first choice he should take his second and says: "I am for HENRY CLAY; between whose political opinions and those of Gen Jackson's there is but one shade of difference."

A Powerful Ally—Thomas Loring Esq. of North Carolina.

The Raleigh (N. C.) Register says, that Thomas Loring Esq., for many years the Editor of the "North Carolina Standard," then and now the mouth-piece of the Locofoco party in that state, disgusted with the double-dealing and hypocritical professions of his party gives notice, in the last number of his "Independent," that he will next week run up the Clay and Frelinghuysen flag. We cordially welcome our political opponent into the Whig ranks, confident, if he displays the same ability and vigor in defence of Whig principles as he has displayed heretofore in support of their opposite, that his effort will tell, with effect, in the great contest now going on for the maintenance of popular rights.

We consider his change of tenets as a most remarkable illustration of the soundness of the aphorism that "Truth is mighty and will prevail." It will take the public, we have no doubt, as it has taken the Whigs here, entirely by surprise; as we are confident his new position has been assumed without consultation, invitation or any knowledge on the part of the Whigs that such would be the case until the Editor had made up his mind, in view of the alarming crisis to which our political interest have arrived.

It would give us pleasure to publish the whole article announcing this change of views, but we must content ourselves with the following pregnant paragraph.

"The democratic Convention recently held at Baltimore has developed incidents and characters that demand the attention and scrutiny of every friend of freedom. Here we behold Bank and Anti-Bank men; Unionists and Disunionists; Reputationists and Anti-Reputationists; T. abilities and Anti-T. abilities, met together in a spirit of mutual malignity; and, after rejecting from their support every man of mind and merit, we see them affect to harmonize upon, a man of straw," and audaciously hold him up to the American People as a proper candidate for the Chief Magistracy of this great and glorious Union. Is this the Democratic party? Is this the freedom of the public will? Are the people to submit to this daring and reckless despotism of self-given political ambitious demagogues? For once we say No! We will neither submit nor be currently, silent. And while we tender our heartfelt thanks and express our warmest regards to the many pure and honest men of the Democratic party with whom we have been associated, and from whom we have received many kindnesses, we utterly repudiate and denounce the course of the leaders who hold the destiny of the party under their control. From the triumph of this combination of selfishness, or maggotism, or corruption, our country has nothing to expect, but every thing of evil to fear, and we believe that a consistent regard for the purity of republican principles will the best prompted in the support of Whig candidates for the prominent offices now about to be vacant.

"We shall, therefore, in our next number, place the names of GRAHAM and CLAY, and FRELINGHUYSEN at the head of our columns, and endeavor to show that the safety and prosperity of the country require their election."

The Workingmen Coming!

We know of several workingmen, honest, intelligent men, whose experience has taught them the benefits of the protective system, who, finding their party going for free trade and Texas, have declared that they shall not go it but vote for Henry Clay. Protection and the interests of the United States. We would give their names now did we not believe they would be greatly annoyed and have their labor interrupted by the officious meddling of the locofoco drill sergeants.

We received, says the Gettysburg Star, the following card on Friday last, and at the request of the gentleman whose name is attached to it, we give it a place in the Star. It shows that when men coolly and dispassionately reflect upon the principles as held by J. K. Polk, they must and will necessarily repudiate him, and come into the support of Henry Clay, the poor man's friend. Mr. Linn has shown an example to those who have been deceived into the support of Locofocoism, which is worthy of imitation, and we commend his course to all those who are disposed to change the error of their way.

"Can't come it."

Having been induced to sign the Locofoco Club Association of East Berlin, by a certain John R. P., by means, to say the least, not very honorable, and having since learnt that their candidate for the Presidency, (James K. Polk) is against a Protective Tariff, I hereby take this method of informing said Club, that I cannot support said Polk and oppression to home industry; but will at the coming election cast my vote for Henry Clay, the friend of the laborer, the mechanic and the farmer. The Club will therefore erase my name.

LEVI ERNST.
East Berlin, June 20th 1844.

A Noble Standard Bearer.

David L. Child, recently the editor of the N. Y. Standard, an abolition paper, and the Washington correspondent of the Liberator, has come out for Mr. Clay, avowing his belief that the annexation of Texas can be prevented only by his election.

A CHANGE, and reasons for thousands in all parts of the Union for following the example of Mr. Ross:

From the Cambridge (Md.) Chronicle.

Mr. Editor—I learn that various opinions are being expressed in relation to my position as a party man at this time; in order to remove all doubts on this subject, I now say that my political opinions have undergone a thorough change, and though for many years a consistent Jackson and Van Buren man, I am now a Democratic Whig and am so for the reason I have been deluded by the self-styled Democrats. While I never wavered in casting my vote with the Locofoco party, I often had doubts respecting the correctness of their policy; but these were met by the promise that if I would have patience these things would all work out right, and thus I kept on until I find our currency ruined, a determination to break down the laboring classes of our people (of which I am one) by putting down the Tariff, and a refusal to distribute the proceeds of the public lands among the States. These, with many other things persisted in by the party to which I long adhered, have determined me, at the ensuing elections, to vote for Pratt, Clay and Frelinghuysen and all the rest of the Whig candidates to be supported the coming elections, for County, State and National offices.

EDWARD ROSS.
Black Water, 8th June, 1844.

Mr M. M. Randall of Marion county, in Va. in a letter to the Fairmont Pioneer, renounces Locofocoism and goes with a rush for Whig men and Whig measures:

"In Western Virginia, and more particularly in Marion county, the nomination is strongly reprobated. Numbers we could name, who would have voted for Old Tecumseh, Benton, Van Buren, Calhoun or Cass will never vote for Polk and Dallas. They will never support men however orthodox their principles without knowing something about their private history and their political career. Others however would support a dog if he were called a "Democrat," of course will swallow the nomination without the least hesitation."

Good news from Vermont.

A gentleman of great intelligence writes from Vermont that the Locofocos of that State are deserting the Polk standard by hundreds. Polk's opposition to the interests of the wool-grower will operate very powerfully against him at the North.—Troy Whig.

More Good News.

Three men named William McCaully, Jacob Wagner, and Henry Good, of Germantown, Ohio, have renounced Locofocoism and joined the Whig party. R. D. Elkins, of Mansburg, Ohio, also requests the editor of the Dayton Journal to inform the public that he wishes to be named stricken "from the Nottingham list."

Desertions.

A Locofoco meeting was held at Savannah, Ga., on the 7th, Col. G. Robertson in the chair, at which it was resolved that "we disapprove the action of the late Baltimore Convention in nominating Mr Polk for President, and that as Democrats repudiate said nomination."

Hundreds of Locos changed—Still More Glorious.

Col Hugh Lindsay of Berks, and some five hundred others who have heretofore been identified with Locofocoism, have recently come out from among the foul party and enrolled themselves under the Banner of Clay, Markle and a Protective Tariff. Lindsay and his associates, are making speeches and exposing the corruptions of Locofocoism in a masterly manner. Full on that ball. [Harrison Clay Bugle]

More Screws Loose.

The Hagerstown (Md.) Herald of Freedom says, that within the last few weeks several Democrats left the Locofoco ranks and joined the Clay Club, among others Anthony Campbell Esq.

The Norristown Pa. Herald says that, one of the Secretaries of the Locofoco Convention, held at Harrisburg, which nominated H. A. Muhlenburg for Governor, has joined the Clay Club.

More Help—New Allies.

Within the last five or six weeks no less than three whig papers have started into existence in the interior of this State. The Republican Whig published at Decatur, Morgan County; the Marion Telegraph, at Marion County; and the Wetumpka Whig, at Wetumpka in the counties of Edgecumbe, Anderson and Coosa. All these papers are well published, and promise to be of great aid to the glorious Whig cause. [Mobile Daily Advertiser]

Charles Burchard of Hamilton, Madison Co. has abandoned the Abolition party and come out heartily in favor of Henry Clay. He says he cannot innocently be instrumental, however indirectly, in aiding the cause of James K. Polk and the Annexation of Texas. His letter recently fills three columns of the Hamilton Freeman, and is very able and cogent. [N. Y. Tribune]

At the riots in Philadelphia there were killed and mangled.

Our cause is just—our union perfect.

Whig Gatherings—Increasing Enthusiasm.

We have from all parts of the country the most cheering accounts of immense gatherings of the Whigs—the re-lighting of the Whig watch fires and the glorious flame of Whig enthusiasm as in 1840. In Massachusetts, in Connecticut in Vermont, in New York, the western part of which is particularly alive, in Pennsylvania in Virginia in the far South and the remote west, everywhere true patriotism is aroused and the strong determination is that the dear bought and long cherished republican principles of our country shall be preserved and the people—the farmers, the mechanics, the laborers and the sailors—all classes and orders shall receive the attention and protection of the government.

We wish it was in our power to give accounts of the noble and multitudinous gatherings of the Whigs, but this our narrow limits will not admit. Among a vast number of pleasant incidents connected with these assemblages that are getting to be so common—we notice that at Hudson N. Y. on the Fourth of July a Mass meeting of Whigs was addressed by a Mr. Van Wagner, a practical Blacksmith of Poughkeepsie. His remarks attracted great attention for their elegance and force. He spent six years of his early life in a cotton factory, and has been engaged for fifteen years since that time at the anvil and bellows. His address was one of most eloquent and convincing character, displaying talents of the highest order. It is said that among the giants who are now engaged in vindicating the Whig cause in various parts of that State, there is no one who is calculated to render more efficient service than this humble blacksmith. The strokes of his hammer could not tell with more effect than his thrilling appeals to the mechanics, the farmers and the working-men.

The spirit of western N. Y. may be learned from the following brief notice of a Mass meeting of Whigs at Rochester, by a correspondent of the New York Tribune. In the procession there were Blacksmiths at work with men hammering on their anvils, a fanning mill in operation, Joiners, Saddlers and Shoemakers at work at their various trades. There was one team with 24 yoke of Oxen. In most of the Delegations were large wagons filled with young ladies; on one of which was a motto "In favor of Annexation, but not of Texas."

The various Delegations after leaving their teams marched on foot to the Court House. A friend of mine counted more than 500 ladies in one part of the procession. The enthusiasm exceeded by far any thing ever before witnessed in this section. The people are rising in their majesty in favor of continuing the Tariff, and against the Annexation of Texas.

Mr. Moore of Waterville; on his return home from this city by the way of Belfast, made a speech to the locos in that town in which, according to the Signal, he retailed Mr Woodbury's Jeremiad about the oppressions of the Tariff on ship builders. The sturdy ship carpenters there were convulsed with laughter at the folly of his statements. They thought he had never smelt salt water before.

We are desired to caution the public against a host of counterfeit Bank bills imitation of Perkins' Plate of ones, twos and threes on various banks. They are about the city as thick as mustard, so be cautious!

The Gazette of yesterday contained the announcement of Asa Walker, Esq, the editor, that he had determined to retire from the editorial charge of that paper at the close of the present week, provided a successor shall be obtained by the proprietors in the interim.

The Whigs of Lenawee county, Michigan, held a convention at Adrian on the 29th and were addressed by Hon Levi Beardsley, formerly a Van Buren Senator of New York.

York on the 7th inst. Mr. Ross presented a potato seven inches in circumference, and others no larger than peas, all planted in the same soil, at the same time—the 25th of May. The large one was from a plot under the influence of a galvanic battery. Plates of copper and zinc were placed at distances of about two feet apart, the potatoes planted between. They were connected by a copper wire following on the fence. This formed a battery, the moisture and acids of the earth exciting the galvanic influence which was thus constantly through the soil in which the potatoes were planted. This is the most important result ever yet obtained by this experiment in the cultivation of plants. It has been previously tried with success in the conservatories of England.

Whig Celebration at Houlton.

The Whigs of Houlton and vicinity celebrated our National Sabbath in an appropriate manner, and to the highest satisfaction of the numerous company who participated.

The procession escorted by the U S Band, was formed at 11 o'clock in front of the Clay Club Room, under the direction of Charles A. Reynolds, as Chief Marshal, and assisted by Ebenezer Woodbury, A. C. Smith, A. P. Haywood, B. F. Richards, Benj. Treadwell and Bradford Comings, as deputy marshals, and proceeded to the Unitarian Meeting House, which was very tastefully fitted up by the Whig Ladies of Houlton for the occasion, when, after a Prayer by Rev. Mr. Bachelder, and the reading of the Declaration of Independence by J. F. H. Hall, they listened to a very able, eloquent and interesting Oration from Israel Washburn, Esq. of Orono. Notwithstanding there were two other celebrations in town, the house, although large, could not convene all that were anxious to hear the oration. Some excellent whig songs were sung by the Choir, which were received by the audience with repeated cheers. The procession again formed and marched through several streets to their bower, where an extra dinner was prepared by Bachelder Hussey, when about two hundred sat down.

Moses White, Esq. was chosen President of the day, Daniel Libby, S. B. Pattee, and J. Carr, Jr. Vice Presidents, A. C. Smith, Toast Master, assisted by E. Woodbury, Houlton, and Mr. Fowler of Fort Fairfield. After the cloth was removed the following Toasts were drunk.

REGULAR TOASTS.

Our Country—The Union without Texas. The Star Spangled Banner—Oh! long may it wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Our Army and Navy—The sword of the Nation, may it never be drawn but in the cause of right, nor sheathed whilst wrong is unrepressed.

The memory of Washington. The day we celebrate—May it never dawn on the Union Dissolved.

The Signers of the Declaration of Independence—Their names are inscribed on tablets more durable than marble.

The Heroes of the Revolution—Their memories will be cherished by a grateful people. Acting President of the U. States.

The Whig Cause—The cause of truth it must and will prevail.

Henry Clay—The first of patriots and statesmen in peace and war; always at his post of duty, his only motive his country's good, his only honor his country's glory.

Theodore Frelinghuysen—As a statesman, patriot and philanthropist, equally entitled to our respect and admiration.

The Tariff of 1842—Strong in the hearts of the American people.

The State of Maine—The time of her redemption draweth nigh.

J. Carr made a few remarks, concluding with a toast complimentary to the orator of the day; and Mr. Washburn replied in a very appropriate and interesting manner, worthy the heart and the abilities of the man.

The following Volunteer Toasts were then drunk.

By S. B. Pattee, Vice President—The Whigs of '44—May they overshadow Locofoco and Tyranny, as the green forest does an old wind fall.

By Moses White—President of the day—Our nation admired by all Foreign Powers, may it be supported by American Industry and Whig Policy.

By I. Washburn, Orator—The Whig Party—their principles, their measures and their candidates, their success the triumph of the true democracy.

By A. C. Smith, Toast Master—The majority in the present House of Representatives—a body of patriots that will hold any thing except their tongues, keep any thing except their words, and lose nothing patiently except their characters.

By A. S. Richards, F. F.—Free trade as advocated by the Locos, protection to foreign labor and destruction to our own.

By G. W. McLellan, Esq.—Geo. Evans, honor to him who honors us.

A. P. Haywood, Asst. Marshal—The Whigs, they have always been successful when their efforts have been concentrated. May they not be found wanting now?

By Mr. Wiggins—The day we celebrate—may the emotions which it now awakens in the bosom of every true American, endure to the end of time.

By a Guest—The Ladies—On the side of right ever—as they were in '40, so will they be found in '44 whigs to a man.

By J. W. Spencer—In anticipation of Henry Clay's Presidency, and eternal happiness to the man who owned the land that raised the corn that fed the goose that bore the quill that wrote the Declaration of Independence.

By Joel Bean—May the Locofocos view the Government officers of responsibility and trust, as the children of Israel did the Promised land, only view them for others.

By a Guest—The amalgamation of Tyranny and Locofocoism, we two are one as the snake said to the lion, "even he swallowed him."

By A. C. Smith—Hon. Luther Severance—honor to him to whom honor is due.

By A. Guest—John Tyler, the cocks have crowed and he has denied us three, let him now annex himself to Texas with a hangman's rope.

After a few whig songs, the company dispersed exchanging friendly greetings and pledges to the cause of the country, that men can do, and never was there a greater or stronger feeling and more determination on the part of the Whigs of Aroostook, to their duty, and their whole duty than now, she will speak well in November.

MOSES WHITE, President.
S. B. PATTEE,
J. CARR, JR., } Vice Presidents.
DANIEL LIBBY,

Braging and Blinding.

This, it appears, is to be the locofoco game. The Pittsburg Post, a locofoco paper, publishes a letter, dated Columbus, Tenn., (Polk's residence,) which the editor boldly asserts "shows that the (Polk) is a firm friend of a Tariff, and that he principles that have been uniformly advocated by him are those that will afford ample permanent protection to American Industry."

The Pittsburg American contains, however, the following letter from the same place, which lets us into the paternity of the Post's letter, and the manner in which similar ones have been procured. Read it carefully:

COLUMBIA, TENN., June 19, 1844.
DEAR SIR:—Immediately after the receipt of the news of the nomination of James K. Polk for President, there came letters from the Committee of Election of the Baltimore Locofoco Convention, advising of the necessity there was for the greatest exertions being made to obtain as decent a vote for the nominee as possible, and to this end advised the adoption of any and all means to forward this purpose. Among others proposed, was that of braging and blinding for the first, no rule was laid down, but the press and all the writers for it were to follow their own bent. For the second the committee had already commenced writing letters, dated at Columbia, giving it as from a friend and near neighbor of Mr. Polk, what were his sentiments on leading national measures.

These were to be published in their proper sections of country, in their proper time. They gave the form of one for Pennsylvania, where he was to be represented as a friend of the 'Tariff' inasmuch as he is well known to have supported Mr. Verplanck's bill of 1833, for laying duties, even on goods that were then free, (tea and coffee.) This was the bill that was to break down the 'Tariff,' and to avoid the evil effects of which the Compromise bill was gone into, but still it was a bill laying duties on importations—that is a Tariff, and Polk was for it, and out of this he is to be made a Tariff man. You may soon expect to see letters of this kind in the course of publication. One half of the people around here don't believe yet, that Polk can be nominated for such an office.

Yours, in haste.

The game of brag is pursued with most unscrupulous assiduity by the locofocos throughout the country. They parade great columns of pretended changes, most of them changes of years' standing, and the balance no changes at all. For instance, Judge Lileston, of Indiana, heads a column of asserted changes from Clay to Polk, and is represented as the late Whig candidate for Congress! Now this fellow never was a Whig candidate for Congress, but tried to be last year, was discarded, and in his rage and mortification, supported secretly the whole locofoco ticket, and as soon as Election was over came out openly a loco loco—ten months ago. His loss was a great gain to the Whigs. So of a Mr. Dunn in that State. So of a Mr. Merrick in Maryland, who is falsely represented as the Whig U. S. Senator from that State. We might go on and expose the whole list, but it is needless. The game of brag may be played out, but it will not win.

N. Y. Tribune.

The following is an extract from a letter to the editor of the New York Herald, dated Bridgeport Conn., June 24:

"There has been some changes in political affairs lately. The venerable and beloved Gen. Thomas Edwards, of this place, who has for many years been a prominent member of the Locofoco party, and who was a candidate for Congress a few years since, has declared his intentions to support Clay and Frelinghuysen. Gen. E. is a man of extensive influence, and well known in the State, can do much for the party of his choice, being intimately connected with many of the most respectable and influential families of this and other States. Alfred Edwards, son of the General, heretofore known as a successful Locofoco orator, has followed in the footsteps of his illustrious father, and is now on a tour through the principal towns in the State, embellishing forth the merits of Clay and Frelinghuysen. The talents of these gentlemen will add much to the future success of the Whig party in the whole State."

Henry O. Bentley, Esq., formerly editor of the Locofoco party in New York, has requested his name to be withdrawn as one of the committee on resolutions at the meeting in the capital. Mr. O. R. is opposed to the annexation of Texas.

John Henderson, Esq. Secretary of the Locofoco meeting in St. Louis, Missouri, has repudiated the party now and forever. He can't swallow annexation to Texas.

G. G. Luman, Esq. has caused a recantation to be published in the Savannah Republican. He at first warmly advocated the annexation of Texas, but by reflection, has announced his original opinion. Gort, Texas.

The Hon. R. D. Davis, Locofoco member of Congress from New York and that "Democratic nomination at Baltimore ought to meet with no respect from the country, and that James K. Polk could not get one electoral college, unless it was that of South Carolina, and that would depend upon the caprice of John C. Calhoun. He refused to sign a card stating, that James K. Polk would receive his support, and would carry the State of New York. Three other members of Congress, of the party, and from the same State, refused to sign the card."

We learn from the Rochester Democrat that there was a meeting of gentlemen identified with the Locofoco party, in Lyons, N. Y., a few days since, who declare themselves unwilling to go for Polk and Texas. The call is signed by 27 persons.

The Miners' (Pa.) Journal says that four Locofocos last week joined the Clay Club. Schuylkill county will be redeemed.

Still They Come.

Still they come.—The Newark Daily Advertiser of Thursday says—"We learn from an authentic source this morning, that fifteen more members of the Van Buren party in this city have openly proclaimed their purpose not to vote for the free trade candidates. They go for Clay and Frelinghuysen, and the tariff—as all men will who understand and value their true interests."

Philadelphia Riots.

The Philadelphia Chronicle of Tuesday says. His excellency Governor Porter, complying with the request of the authorities, arrived in this city at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and put up at the American House, Chesnut street, opposite Independence Hall.

Mr. Thomas D. Grover, a leading Native American exerted himself to the utmost to restore quiet. Being very popular in the district, with all classes, his influence is very great. Other principal leaders in the Native party also used their endeavors to restore order. Mr. Grover even offered to become personally responsible for damages.

A very large number of troops, from the country arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and reported themselves to the Major General, at his head quarters. Among these a large number of cavalry, horse, and foot rifle.

In the evening some three thousand military, in all were under arms, at their armories—the arsenal, &c. A large civil force had also been enrolled.

About 5 P. M.—Two or three Irishmen in the vicinity of Queen and Third Streets, who were heard to express violent language, were roughly treated by the mob. One of them, named James McCann, was very badly beaten.

Gov. Porter issued a general order last evening, regretting the present occurrences, and calling on the people to support the laws.

He has given orders to all the generals near the city to be ready for marching here at a moment's warning.

Gen. Patterson is ordered to clear all crowds or collections of people.

Riot and bloodshed, he says, must be terminated at once.

ORDER RESTORED.

Passengers who came on in the same car which brought the mail, (and of course the above accounts) state that when they left every thing was perfectly quiet at Philadelphia.

Later from Nauvoo—Reception of the Dead Bodies of Joe and Hiram Smith at the Holy City.

The intelligence which we publish yesterday from Illinois is confirmed by the Cincinnati paper of the 4th inst. We learn from the Cincinnati Atlas that the Steamer Mendota, Capt. Riley, left Nauvoo on Friday 28th June, at 4 o'clock, touching at St. Louis, and arriving at Cincinnati on the 3d inst. Capt. Riley furnished the St. Louis New Era, with particulars not given in the Extra. He says he stopped at Nauvoo several hours, and talked with a number of Mormons, and that while there a body of Mormons came in bearing the dead bodies of Joe and Hiram Smith. Mr. Phillips was not killed, but was in Nauvoo when the M. left, making a speech to the Mormons and advising them to peace.

No Mormons were killed except Joe and Hiram Smith. The Mormons all express a determination to keep the peace, and not to resort to arms except in necessary self-defence. They state that at Carthage the Mormons were confined: that about fifty or one hundred men, disguised, suddenly rushed on the jail house; that the guard fired on them, and wounded three of them—that the men in disguise fired into the jail, and killed Hiram Smith before the door was opened. Joe Smith had a revolving pistol, and fired it two or three times without effect, but was himself soon killed by the assailants; that Taylor, the editor of the Nauvoo Neighbor, was in jail and was shot through the thigh, but not seriously injured: Richards was not injured. The guard that had been stationed at the jail consisted of fifty men, left by the Governor, of whom only eight or ten were on duty when the attack was made on the jail house.

Peace and order restored in St. Domingo.

We learn from Capt. Hill, of the schooner Maria L. Hill from Gonives, St. Domingo, that when he left, the island was in a more settled state than it had been for a long time. President Guerrier had so far given perfect satisfaction to all classes of the population, and the Chiefs of the Northern and Southern parts of the Island have all sent their submission to the new government. Business was more active since the last 15 days, and confidence in trade was universally restored. The market at Gonives was well stocked with all kinds of American produce. There was only one arrival expected from Boston. Coffee is very scarce and the price has been kept very high. The prices the day Capt. Hill left, ruled 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, and the demand for Logwood is great, and principally bought up for Nassau and Jamaica to fill vessels lying there on demurrage, at $10 a 1/2.—[Express.]

Professional Notice.

THE subscriber would offer his services to the citizens of Bangor and vicinity, as a HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND DENTIST.

Having spent thirteen years in the investigation and practice of the old system of medicine, nearly four years in that of Homeopathy; he is prepared to judge of the comparative merits of the two systems, and would express his entire confidence in the great superiority of the Homeopathic system, as being a more safe and efficacious practice, and applicable to all classes of disease in which medical means are serviceable.

He would particularly invite all patients laboring under chronic diseases, who have found former practice ineffectual for their relief—all those who feel that there ought to be improvements in the principles of treating diseases, as well as in other departments of science, to give him a call.

Having devoted a portion of his time for twenty years past as a practical Dentist, would offer his services in this department also. For setting Teeth on pivot or gold plate—filling with pure gold or Foil—Cleaning or Extracting. He would do that all work done by him, shall be done in a work-manlike manner and prices reasonable.
